01. Address by the Grand Master

Dear consœurs and confrères,

The Order of Saint Lazarus, as a noble Order of Chivalry, remains today what, in essence, it has always been: a Christian organization made up of lay members with the spiritual guidance of its chaplains, dedicated to social and hospitaller care.

The charitable work of the Order is highlighted in this 2013 Hospitaller Report. It contains interesting details of the hospitaller efforts conducted by the jurisdictions of the Order.

It is highly informative and also contains a message of gratitude to the members and supporters of our Order for their charitable work throughout the world.

The Order has achieved many good deeds in the year of our Lord 2013. A great variety of worthy charitable activities and efforts have been conducted by single members and our jurisdictions in a world that is increasingly drifting apart from God.

The 2013 Hospitaller Report is a message of charity to the world that solidarity does not end at home.

Good deeds extended to our neighbors and mankind show the love of God.

There is a light of hope that our Order must bear in mind every day, the recollection of its first and most worthy reason for being – to provide help for the destitute.

In reading this report, I am reminded once more that the sisters and brothers of the Order of Saint Lazarus have internalized what a Christian knight is called to demonstrate – the imitation of Christ. In modern times, this is what we have learned from Saint Ignatius of Loyola:

*To give and not to count the cost;
To fight and not to heed the wounds;
To toil and not to seek for rest;
To labor and not to ask for any reward;
Save that of knowing that we do Thy will.*

02. Address by the Grand Commander

Dear consœurs and confrères,

In front of you, you will find the Hospitaller report of our Order for the year 2013. To start with I would like to thank our Grand Hospitaller and all other people who were involved in the preparation and production of this 4th consolidated report about the hospitaller and charitable activities of our Order. It is our intention to have a Hospitaller report like this every year. It is also our intention to publish hospitaller projects of the jurisdictions of our Order on our Website.

For our Order it is important to tell what the goal and purpose of our Order is and to show to the people how we are trying to achieve this. It is also important for the different jurisdictions in our Order to learn about the activities of other jurisdictions and maybe to find ways in working together. This hospitaller report is still not complete. The data of a couple of jurisdictions are missing. I am sure, however, that every year there will be improvements in making our efforts more known to the public.

03. Introduction by the Grand Hospitaller

Dear consoeurs and confrères,

It is rather deliberate that the Grand Hospitaller Report for 2013 will be presented on the occasion of the international pilgrimage of the Order in Walsingham. As it was already the case two years ago in Kevelaer, the members of the Order taking part in the pilgrimage will experience the spirituality of their community.

These spiritual impulses before Pentecost will give a strong impetus to undertake charitable deeds according to the Christian faith. The remarkable hospitaller reports compiled by 28 jurisdictions find their mention in this international report.

I would once again like to thank all members of these jurisdictions for their outstanding charitable activities. Following tradition, this year, I will present three reports in all their diversity. When reading the individual reports, one cannot help but notice that new enthusiasm, new zest and new dynamism have reached the Order.

My special thanks go out to Dame Marny Gilluly, Chevalier drs Ron Hendriks and the Hospitaller Working Group that this report could be compiled as quickly as this.

Definitions and accounting possibilities.

To publish a overall report of the hospitaller activities of the jurisdictions of our Order worldwide started in 2010. Every year the number of jurisdictions sending their hospitaller report was increasing.

The ultimate goal is that every jurisdiction will do so in the near future. For 2013 78% of the jurisdictions filed their annual hospitaller report. May the others rise, like Lazarus. They received a letter (e-mail) from the Grand Commander with the kind request to file their report in the near future. Even if they don't have a hospitaller report we would like to know because then people don't have to wait for it.

The original intention was to have a consolidated report of our Order.

The question is if this is possible. Maybe we have to agree with a listing of the activities of the different jurisdictions. Or a way in between. This depends on the answer of the question in how far the hospitaller committee is able to solve the problems of incompatibility.

Definitions have to be made and the registration of the different jurisdictions should be done in the same way.

To discuss a couple of the problems:

- * 1. What is a 'hands – on – hour' and how should it be valued (or should it not be valued)? If somebody is assisting in a nursing home or hospice for example it is quite obvious that this should be seen as hands – on hours. What, however, if somebody is walking to Santiago di Compostella and is sponsored per walking kilometer for a charity project of the Order? Those walking hours, are they hands – on hours? What if somebody is organizing a charity dinner or concert? What if somebody is collecting emergency supplies such as medicines, medical supplies, food and shelter, and is loading and shipping a container with those supplies?
- * 2. What is the value of emergency supplies? It is possible to get a lot of emergency supplies for free. But what is the value of them? If they are depreciated they still have an economic value. If this is not the case then don't bother to collect them, to buy a container and to transport them.
- * 3. There are a lot of organizations related to our Order. In how far is their hospitaller and charitable work a credit for our Order?
- * 4. It is not known for the moment if this list is up to date. The Grand Hospitaller and his committee should investigate this. Below two (2) organizations are mentioned because they are incorporated in the annual hospitaller report of the jurisdictions.
- * 5. Deutscher Hilfsdienst Zahnärzten (German Dentist Relief Organization, further called DHZ). This organization spent in 2013 € 804,000 on projects all over the world for people in need in cooperation with the Grand Bailiwick of Germany.

The Military and Hospitaller Order of St. Lazarus of Jerusalem

✱ 6. Lazarus Hilfswerk Germany.

This organization was founded in 1971-1972 by a member of the European Humanitarian Grand Priory. At the moment they are incorporated in the German health care system because they are running homes for elderly people, nursing homes, an ambulance service for handicapped people and day groups for young people with education problems. Their yearly turnover is 14.7 million Euros. Together with people of the European Humanitarian Grand Priory they build Welfare Stations in Poland (Ermland Masuren). Their total investment in the welfare stations in the last couple of years was € 699,037. =.

To give an example of item 1 and 2:

The Grand Priory of France shipped 5 containers with furniture equipment, laboratory equipment and medical analysis equipment for the people in Cameroun.

What is the value of the emergency supplies? What is the value of the containers? What are the transport costs? How many hours did they spent in collecting and transporting the supplies?

Another example: Food for the poor:

The Grand Priory of Spain did a great job of collecting and distributing food for the poor. They valued this effort as € 302.000. Is this the economic value of the food? What about the hours spent collecting and distributing the food?

It should be clear that due to the problems mentioned above (hopefully the hospitaller committee can solve some of them) it is not possible to make a consolidated international hospitaller report. In this report therefore we took the figures and volunteer hours of the different jurisdictions for granted and for a lot of charitable activities no value is given but only a listing of the activities.

In the report below the activities of the jurisdictions are reported related to the type of care. Our Order, like the other orders born in the Holy Land during the Crusades, had a turbulent and honorable beginning and a brief but very useful role in exterminating leprosy in Europe during the Middle Ages. Because of this origin and the fact that fighting leprosy is still one of the main goals of our Order, it starts with "Leprosy".

05. GENERAL OVERVIEW

Actually it has little use to give a general overview because it is very difficult to compare the reports of the different jurisdictions and they are not compatible.

Some jurisdictions value the emergency supplies they sent, others only mention that they sent for example a container full of medical supplies without mentioning anything further.

Most of the jurisdictions mentioned that they spent a lot of hands – on – hours. Some of them give a number, others don't. None of the jurisdictions valued the hands – on – hours in monetary terms.

If you look at the figures below, you have to keep this in mind.

Value of the hospitaller activities (in Euros) as far as an amount is given:

* Leprosy	370,963
* Hospice / Palliative care	499,360
* Childcare	137,063
* Food for the poor	362,389
* Emergency supplies	6,550
* Different projects	1,233,485

6. Leprosy history<sup>1</sup>

Leprosy is an infectious disease that causes severe, disfiguring skin sores and nerve damage in the arms and legs. The disease has been around since ancient times, often surrounded by terrifying, negative stigmas and tales of leprosy patients being shunned as outcasts. Outbreaks of leprosy have affected, and panicked, people on every continent. The oldest civilizations of China, Egypt, and India feared leprosy was an incurable, mutilating, and contagious disease.

Evidence of leprosy

The causative agent of leprosy, Mycobacterium leprae, dates back to ancient Egypt in 4000 BCE and was discussed by Hippocrates in 460 BCE.

The earliest proven human case was verified by DNA taken from the shrouded remains of a man discovered in a tomb next to the Old City of Jerusalem dated by radiocarbon methods to 1–50 BCE.

The term leprosy is derived from either the Indo-European term lap, which means the removal of scales or the Greek word for scales, lepra.

Historically people infected were often confined against their will in leper colonies, and Europe were required to carry a bell to identify their presence.

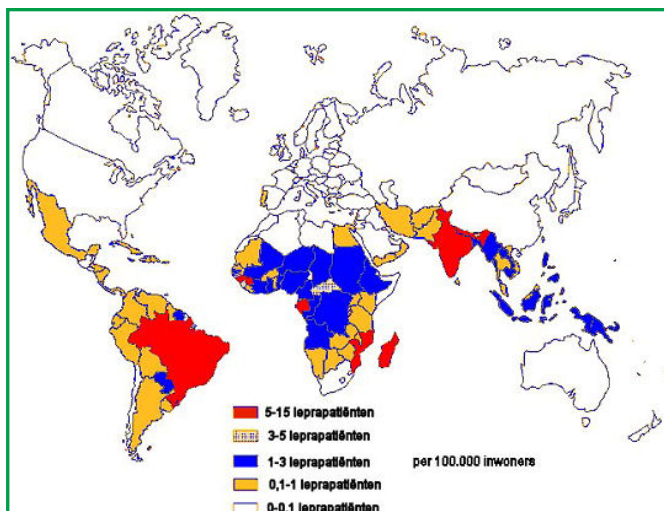

Treatments have included arsenic in Medieval, elephants' teeth, creosote, and mercury. Discovered by G. H. Armauer Hansen in Norway in 1873, making it the first bacterium to be identified as causing disease in humans. The first effective treatment (promin) became available in the 1940s. The search for further effective anti-leprosy drugs led to the use of clofazimine and rifampicin in the 1960s and 1970s.

G. H. Armauer Hansen
1841-1912

Later, Indian scientist Shantaram Yawalkar and his colleagues formulated a combined therapy using rifampicin and dapsone, intended to mitigate bacterial resistance. Multidrug therapy (MDT) combining all three drugs was first recommended by the WHO in 1981. These three anti-leprosy drugs are still used in the standard MDT regimens. Although the medicines are given for free by the WHO a lot of people still don't get the right treatment which also has something to do with the social environment and the willingness (and ability) of governments to provide the medicines.

Official figures from 115 countries show the global registered prevalence of leprosy at 189,018 at the end of 2012 and during the same year, 232,857 new cases were reported.

Per 100,000 inhabitants

Leper colonies or houses

Leper colonies or houses became widespread in the Middle Ages, particularly in Europe and India, and often run by monastic orders. Historically, leprosy has been greatly feared because it causes visible disfigurement and disability, was incurable, and was commonly believed to be highly contagious. A leper colony administered by a Roman Catholic order was often called a lazaretto, after Lazarus, the patron saint of lepers. A leper colony, leprosarium, or lazaretto is a place to quarantine people with leprosy, which is also known as Hansen's disease.

The term lazaretto can refer to quarantine sites, which were at some time also leper colonies. Some colonies were located on mountains or in remote locations in order to ensure quarantine, some on main roads, where donations would be made for their upkeep.

Romania, Tichilești

Debate exists over the condition found within historical leper colonies. While they are currently thought to have been grim and neglected places, there are some indications that life within a leper colony or house was no worse than the life of other, non-quarantined individuals. There is even doubt that the current definition of leprosy can be retrospectively applied to the medieval condition.

What was classified as leprosy then covers a wide range of skin conditions that would be classified as distinct afflictions today.

The last existing leper colony in Europe is Tichilești, see picture above.

Tichilești in Isaccea, Tulcea County, Romania, had 22 inhabitants according to the 2002 census. Although officially a hospital, Tichilești appears to be more like a small village, and is formally administered as a village by Isaccea. Tichilești was founded as a monastery, in 1875 becoming a leper colony. The last case of leprosy in Romania was diagnosed in 1981 and the age of the patients in Tichilești ranges between 37 and 90, most of them having an age of more than 60 years.

Pacific Leprosy Foundation

In New Zealand, Quail Island in Lyttelton Harbour was set up as a leprosy colony in 1906 until its closure in 1925. Patients were shipped to the island to be kept in isolation. As expected for the time, conditions were Spartan. With the closure of Quail Island, as a leprosarium, the remaining patients were transferred to Makogai in Fiji where they joined a much larger group of around 750 leprosy sufferers from around the South Pacific. Patrick Twomey dedicated himself to the cause and it wasn't long before he became known as the 'Leper Man'. He started by writing appeal letters directly to prospective benefactors in Christchurch city, then around Canterbury and finally, with the support of others, all across New Zealand. The time had come to establish a more formal organization and the Makogai NZ Lepers' Trust Board, the forerunner of the Pacific Leprosy Foundation, was set up in 1939.<sup>2</sup>

Fontilles

Fontilles is a Spanish NGO founded in 1902 to take care of leprosy patients. In 1909, the "San Francisco de Borja" Sanatorium was opened and had a main role in the elimination of leprosy in Spain. Nowadays, the Sanatorium is a reference centre in the fight against leprosy. In 1986 Fontilles began to support work abroad, in countries leprosy is still present, with the same objective: "to take care of people affected by leprosy, giving remedies, physical and social rehabilitation, and the assistance to other diseases or present exclusions"<sup>3</sup>.

7. Contribution of our Order in the battle against Leprosy

Flagship project

Every member of the Order internationally was asked to contribute € 5, = to support the surgical activities of the Leprosy Hospital “GANDHIJI SEVA NIKETAN” in Bhubaneswar, India (50 surgical beds).

German Dentist Relief Organization (DHZ)

They supported the following projects:

- Bombai Leprosy Project in Mumbai, Leprosy center Nagpur in central India; Leprosy village Belfort in Anthala on Madagaskar.
- Home for nurses in Leprosy village Van Mon in Vietnam. St. Francis and the leper in Vietnam<sup>4</sup>.

There are over 20 villages for the treatment of leprosy in Vietnam with 3,500 residents. The oldest is Van Mon, a hospital for the treatment of leprosy and a village where over 350 people with leprosy live. The residents of Van Mon have survived a history of persecution. Many contracted leprosy when they were children and were taken to Van Mon where they have spent their entire life with no contact from their families.

They live with very little and suffer from poor sanitation. They have no means to improve their lives and rely solely on their government caretaker.

Each resident receives a monthly government stipend of $9 for food and clothing and a small allotment of rice. They plant gardens for extra food. They live a very isolated life and rarely have contact with the outside world. Every year several of our student friars and candidates spend four to six weeks working in the hospital and with the people in the village, teaching the children,...

8. Hospice care, Palliative Care

Hospice care and Palliative care

Hospice care and Palliative care are very similar when it comes to the most important issue for dying people: care. Most people have heard of hospice care and have a general idea of what services hospice provides. What they don't know or what may become confusing is that hospice provides "palliative care", and that palliative care is both a method of administering "comfort" care and increasingly, an administered system of palliative care offered most prevalently by hospitals. As an adjunct or supplement to some of the more "traditional" care options, both hospice and palliative care protocols call for patients to receive a combined approach where medications, day-to-day care, equipment, bereavement counseling, and symptom treatment are administered through a single program. Where palliative care programs and hospice care programs differ greatly is in the care location, timing, payment, and eligibility for services<sup>6</sup>.

WHO Definition of Palliative Care<sup>7</sup>

Palliative care is an approach that improves the quality of life of patients and their families facing the problems associated with life-threatening illnesses, through the prevention and relief of suffering by means of early identification and impeccable assessment and treatment of pain and other problems, physical, psychosocial and spiritual.

Palliative care:

- ✱ Provides relief from pain and other distressing symptoms;
- ✱ Affirms life and regards dying as a normal process;
- ✱ It tends neither to hasten nor postpone death;
- ✱ Integrates the psychological and spiritual aspects of patient care;
- ✱ Offers a support system to help patients live as actively as possible until death;
- ✱ Offers a support system to help the family cope during the patient's illness and in their own bereavement;
- ✱ Uses a team approach to address the needs of patients and their families, including bereavement counseling, if indicated;
- ✱ Will enhance quality of life, and may also positively influence the course of illness;
- ✱ Is applicable early in the course of illness, in conjunction with other therapies that are intended to prolong life, such as chemotherapy or radiation therapy, and includes those investigations needed to better understand and manage distressing clinical complications.

WHO Definition of Palliative Care for Children

Logo from Kids Care Nemours

Palliative care for children represents a special, albeit closely related field to adult palliative care. WHO's definition of palliative care appropriate for children and their families is as follows; the principles apply to other paediatric chronic disorders (WHO; 1998a):

- * Palliative care for children is the active total care of the child's body, mind and spirit, and also involves giving support to the family.
- * It begins when illness is diagnosed, and continues regardless of whether or not a child receives treatment directed at the disease.
- * Health providers must evaluate and alleviate a child's physical, psychological, and social distress.
- * Effective palliative care requires a broad multidisciplinary approach that includes the family and makes use of available community resources; it can be successfully implemented even if resources are limited.
- * It can be provided in tertiary care facilities, in community health centre's and even in children's homes.

Contribution of our Order in the field of Hospice care and Palliative care

In total the Order donated 499,360. = on hospice/ palliative care. In addition, there were a lot of hands – on activities, for example in the operation of the Saint Joseph Hospice, the Strasburg Hospice and the Krakow Hospice of which the numbers of hours is not known.

The Military and Hospitaller Order of St. Lazarus of Jerusalem

To date more than 300,000 copies of A Caregiver's Guide, in English and French language editions as well as in Chinese and two Inuit languages, have been distributed in Canada, all at no cost to the caregivers.

A Caregiver's Guide was first published in Alberta, Canada in 2000 as a project of the Edmonton and Calgary commanderies and developed in association with the Alberta Hospice Palliative Care Association and the Edmonton Regional Palliative Care Program. The Order of St. Lazarus contributed significantly to all aspects of the publication and also raised the funds needed to print and distribute the first 20,000 copies.

After numerous requests for a revised, national edition of A Caregiver's Guide were received from across Canada, and with the encouragement of Senator Sharon Carstairs, then Minister with Special Responsibility for Palliative Care, in 2005 the Order of St. Lazarus committed to support the publication of a national edition endorsed by the Canadian Hospice Palliative Care Association (CHPCA). With funding from the Order, 50,000 copies of A Caregiver's Guide, and 15,000 of the French translation Guide des aidants naturels, were printed and distributed to Canadian caregivers via hospice palliative care programs associated with the CHPCA.

Moreover, the Order of St. Lazarus has also supported the translation and publication of international editions of A Caregiver's Guide in Portugal, Australia, China and Japan; several European countries are currently exploring the potential for its translation and use.

A Caregiver's Guide is an example of how the Order of St. Lazarus serves others by identifying community needs and developing strategies to help fulfill them<sup>8</sup>.

9. Flagship project : Saint Louis Hospital in Jerusalem

Thanks to the French influence, around the year 1980, there was a rise of the Christian religious orders in Jerusalem. The majority was French and contributed to the urban development. The congregation of Sisters de Saint-Joseph of the Apparition was the first community, working in Jerusalem since 1948.

The sisters arranged a hospital, made up of three rooms, within the Latin Patriarchate. Unfortunately, the lack of space and discomfort made this location intolerable. With the assistance of the patronage of the Count of Piellat, a bigger hospital was built outside the ramparts of the city. It is located opposite the New Gate, opening in 1889 in order to allow a direct access to the recently established Christian institutions. The hospital started to function in 1880, but was completed only in 1896 and could then receive a hundred patients. As a general hospital, it is equipped with a dispensary, an operating room and a service of hospitalization. The care is given to all, Jews, Christians and Moslem, without any distinction<sup>9</sup>.

Late in 2012, Professor Charles Savona-Ventura of the University of Malta made the exciting discovery that the Order's leprosarium in Jerusalem was sited just outside the walls of the Old City, near what is now the New Gate. Even more exciting, he determined that the French Saint Louis Hospital now sits on the site of our old Leprosy Hospital.

Today, the Saint Louis Hospital urgently needs renovation to bring it up to the new Israeli hospital code by 2016. The Sisters of Saint Joseph of the Apparition, who run the hospital, have begun the repairs and commenced the work with the faith that funds will be forthcoming. The Hospital Director, Sister Monika Düllmann, also visited earlier in 2013 with the Grand Hospitaller, Dr Axel Mittelstaedt, to discuss the project.

We agreed to pay for the renovation of the kitchen of the hospital which will cost 80,000. =.
A couple of jurisdictions already contributed for the project. The Grand Bailiwick of Germany guaranteed to contribute the money not raised for the 80,000. =

10. Childcare

Child care (or "childcare", "child minding", "daycare", or "preschool") is the caring for and supervision of a child or children, usually from age six weeks to age thirteen. Child care is the action or skill of looking after children by a day-care center, babysitter, or other providers. Child care is a broad topic covering a wide spectrum of contexts, activities, social and cultural conventions, and institutions. It is traditional in Western society for children to be taken care of by their parents or their legal guardians.

In families where children live with one or both of their parents, the childcare role may also be taken on by the child's extended family. If a parent or extended family is unable to care for the children, orphanages and foster homes are a way of providing for children's care, housing, and schooling<sup>10</sup>.

✱ Global Emergency Care Skills (GECS)

Global Emergency Care Skills was founded in 2008 to provide emergency care and trauma skills training to doctors and nurses in developing countries where Emergency Medicine is a developing specialty. This is accomplished through the provision of a skills and simulation based course in trauma care, resuscitation skills and major incident management. The teaching faculty is composed of emergency medicine physicians from Ireland.

Global H2O<sup>17</sup>

Global H2O Group (Established November 2009) is a 501(c)3 registered charity in the United States of America, which was founded by James DeWitt Wilde, David Simons, and Chris Wooten. According to the charity, Global H2O has funded over 30 projects in Northern Uganda, helping 60,000 people to obtain clean drinking water from the production of standard United Nations designed boreholes (deep wells with hand pumps). It now operates in the UK, Germany and USA for fundraising purposes. It has also partnered with the Order of Saint Lazarus in Ireland to deliver clean drinking water to the impoverished of Northern Uganda. Global H2O is not politically oriented, not religion oriented, all volunteer, with the goal for efficient investment of donor funds (at least 80% of funds must be allocated to projects)<sup>18</sup>

Priory of Liechtenstein

✱ Maintenance Pilger routes

✱ Rights on Pilgrimage stamp

✱ Pilgrimage to the church “Volto Santo” in Manoppello<sup>19</sup> Research undeniably proves that the Veil of Manoppello comes from Jerusalem. The consolidation of the countenance's image took place in the tomb of Jesus at the moment of His Resurrection. It is highly probable that both the Shroud of Turin and the Veil of Veronica traveled to Edessa and were kept there until the 5th century. The oldest legend, so called Kamulian, dating from the 6th century, mentions that the image of Christ's face arrived in Constantinople in 574 AD from a small place called Kamuliana, located close to Edessa. A sixth-century text from Tbilisi reads that after the Ascension of Jesus His Mother kept the image, which was created in His tomb, on a piece of cloth. She is said to have received the image from God the Father so that she could pray looking at the face of her Son.

The Military and Hospitaller Order of St. Lazarus of Jerusalem

Priory of Liechtenstein Continued from Pilgrimage to the church "Volto Santo" in Manopello

Another legend which has been used to explain the creation of Christ's Countenance's miraculous imprint mentions Abgar, the king of Edessa. He developed leprosy and, sending his messenger Ananias, asked Jesus to come to Edessa to cure him. Jesus was not able to go but He sent Abgar a letter [in which He praised the ruler's faith] and the veil with the image of His Countenance [imprinted on a piece of cloth used for drying His Face after washing]. When Abgar saw the Divine Countenance of Jesus imprinted upon the veil [or reverently pressed it to his face], he was healed partially and received complete healing upon the arrival of St Thaddeus, promised by Jesus in the letter to Abgar.
